KEEP AT SAFE DISTANCE

This Timely Advice And the Avoidance of Common Drinking Cups is A Safeguard Against the Much Dreaded "Flu"

Richmond, Va., Nov. 26.—Let us have no truce with the Spanish "flu"—the scourge that has exacted a greater toll of life than our war with the Huns. It cannot be trusted, especially at this season, for it is a cold weather disease. Even now it is raging in some sections of the country, and in more than one instance it has returned in malignant form to communities which thought they were rid of it. Reports to the State Board of Health from many parts of Virginia show that doctors are still busy with patients suffering from the grippe. Several districts have closed their schools a second time.

All told, perhaps thirty per cent of those in this State have had the "flu" in one form or another. The other sixty per cent had better 'watch their step." Some may be immune, but the great majority have no guarantee that they will not be hit.

The germs which cause influenza as well as those which cause whooping cough, scarlet fever, diptheria tuberculosis, colds, pneumonia and other spray borne disease, live in the mouth and nose secretions of people Fortunately they are short-lived and therefore can be avoided. In a word they may be rendered harmless by a careful avoidance of that all too common "split swapping" which comes from coughing or sneezing at close quarters. Too often the deadly droplets of saliva find human targets.

There is an almost certain way of avoiding the "flu" and protecting not only yourself but your fellow man. At all times keep your face at least three feet away from anybody else's. And consistently avoid the common drinking cup—a menace interdicted alike by law and common sense.

ATTEND MISS LEE'S FUNERAL

Washington Daughters of Confederacy at Services

Washington, Nov. 26.—Funeral services for Miss Mary Custis Lee, the last surviving daughter of Gen. Robert E. Lee, who died at Hot Spring, Va., November 22, were held yesterday afternoon at the church of the Epiphany. The body was taken to Lexington, Va., for burial in the family vault.

Members of the District Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, attended the services in a body. Before the Civil War Miss Lee lived in the Lee mansion at Arlington, which now stands in the National Cemetery overlooking Washington and the surrounding country.

While her home was at Lexington, Miss Lee traveled extensively, making four trips around the world. She was 84 years old.

A THANKSGIVING APPEAL

The Board of Governors of the Anne Lee Memorial Home of the Aged, most earnestly solicit donations of groceries, clothing, bed clothing and money. This has been a strenuous year for the board—many of their monthly contributors have withdrawn their donations for war work, and with the high cost of such food absolutely required for old people, it has been sometimes hard to meet demands.

It is only once a year that the home comes before the public to ask contributions,—at Thanksgiving, and as there are so few charitable institutions in our city, (only two now), they trust they shall have a liberal response to this appeal.

RICHMOND THEATRE

The treat of the season is in store for those who attend the Richmond Theatre tonight. If there ever was a movie actress who appealed to the hearts of the people Vivian Martin is the one, and in "My Country First," she is seen at her best. It is a play full of interest and will make you feel that you are a real American. Don't miss it.

LABOR HAS NEW PLAN

Established to Preach Doctrine of Self-Government for Industry

New York, Nov. 26.—Self-government for every industry. The complete organization of every trade, with every man in his union and every employer in his association. From the two an elected trade parliament in every trade, with proper status and adequate powers. This is the plan of the Industrial Reconstruction Council of Great Britain, the workings of which are being studied by our own Department of Labor, with a view to possible application of this method of harmonizing the interests of capital and labor here.

The Industrial Reconstruction Council of Great Britain is an unofficial propagandist body established to preach this doctrine of self-government for industry and the reconstruction of industry by the industry itself.

The council originated in October, 1917. It was called by a large number of officers of trade associations, editors of trade papers and others interested in the movement for industrial self-government.

At present the interest of the council is centered in the formation of joint industrial councils, this being considered the first step toward the goal in view. It is working in close relation with Government departments.

Its ultimate object is to establish a species of parliamentary government for each separate great industry, which will enact laws and rules to govern all branches of the industry, including hours, wages, conditions, overtime, safety devices, profit sharing, accident compensation, security of employment, raw material technical methods, improvement in manufacturing methods, apprenticeship and all the other complex trade questions with which unions and manufacturers' associations now deal separately and about which they quarrel in strikes, lockouts, blacklists etc.

A. D. MONTIER DEAD

End of Well-Known Scenic Artist Follows Stroke of Paralysis

Alfred Du Montier, fifty-two years old, died shortly after 9 o'clock last night at his residence, 117 South Royal street. Four weeks ago he was stricken with paralysis.

The deceased was a scenic artist and inventor.

Mr. Montier was a native of Montreal, Canada, and came to Alexandria more than ten years ago and at one time was head of the Lock-Tile Manufacturing Company. For many years he painted scenes for bazaars held here.

Mr. Montier afterward left Alexandria and went to Savannah, Ga., and returned here more than a year ago and again took up his work.

Besides his wife he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. J. R. Allen, Detroit.

His funeral will take place at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning from St. Mary's Catholic Church.

HAS OWN GRAVE DUG

Sussex Countian Also Orders Special Coffin

Laurel, Del., Nov. 26.—Phillip Hitch, of Norfolk, Va., has been in Laurel this week making final arrangements for his own funeral and attending to the digging of his own grave. Mr. Hitch is a former Sussex countian and is a brother of Dr. William Hitch, of this town. He was one of the most prosperous farmers in this neighborhood and retired a few years ago and went to live with relatives at Norfolk. During the recent epidemic of influenza he became very much concerned about the burial of his body and as soon as conditions would permit, started to make these arrangements.

A coffin of the old-fashioned type, with a flat top, is being built by an undertaker in Norfolk. By special request the coffin has a hinged door in the lid. Beneath this door is a pane of glass, which Mr. Hitch says could be easily broken in case he should be buried alive.

Having a fearful dread of being buried alive, Mr. Hitch has requested that no dirt be put on the grave in which he is buried. In the churchyard at Broad Creek, better known as Christ Church, he has had the grave dug and walled up with brick. This grave will be kept covered until his death.

CONCERTED PRAYER

Women Meet in Norton Memoria to Discuss Spiritual Welfare During The Reconstruction Period—Lunch Served in the Afternoon

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church held a joint special session of Piedmont Convocation in Norton Memorial at St. Paul's Church yesterday from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. The speaker was Miss Sallie Dean, of Richmond. There were representatives from the several branches of the Auxiliary in this part of the State.

The object of the meeting was to arrange for a week of concerted prayer throughout the church and among all Christian women. The movement has been sanctioned by the house of bishops and the clergy and will be widespread throughout our land. The church has prayed earnestly for peace and the blessing has been given us.

Miss Dean spoke beautifully on the subject of prayer and the wonderful promises given us that prayer and supplication shall be answered and bring a blessing—not only to those for whom prayer is made, but to the supplicant as well—that the fact that we are privileged to ask for God's blessing to be poured out upon our fellow man makes us the channel through which these blessings will flow —thereby making our own lives pure, clean and happy.

There have been messengers appointed in the various churches throughout the country. These messengers are authorized to carry pledge cards to the women of the church offering them the opportunity to become a part of this great movement for the spiritual welfare and uplift of mankind during the reconstruction period following the war, when our boys come home. that they may find us mindful of the blessings we have received and thankful to the great Giver of every good and perfect gift. There have been arrangements made for distributing two thousand of these pledge cards on this convocation and fifteen thousand in the diocese of Virginia. This offers a great privilege to Christian women everywhere to become a part of this great spiritual movement by adding their voices to those of thousands of othrs in thanksgiving and supplication.

Between the morning and afternoon session sandwiches and coffee were served and a delightful half hour was spent in social conversation.

HALL TRIAL IN FAIRFAX

The taking of testimony in the case of Lou Hall, charged with the murder of Eva Roy was resumed today in the circuit court for Fairfax county, Judge Samuel G. Brent presiding.

It is expected that the case will go to the jury tomorrow. Thus far the prosecution has failed to establish its case against Hall and the opinion prevails that Hall will be acquitted.

GRAND THEATRE

"The Demon," a romance of the levant, starring Edith Storey, is a picturization of the widely-read novel of the same name by C. N. and A. M. Williamson. In this Metro All-Star Series picture, which will be exhibited at the Grand Theatre tomorrow. Miss Storey has a colorful stellar role as Perdita, daughter of an American, who is raised in Corsica. At the age of five she is sold in a slave market to the man with whom she eventually falls in love. Besides a wealth of beautiful exteriors, "The Demon" calls for some extremely lavish interior sets, one of them the throne room of a sultan, with all its Oriental magnificence.

CASE OF MOONEY

Frank Morrison Declares His Disapproval of Weapon of Strike.

Washington, Nov. 26.—The American Federation of Labor is not in sympathy with the strikes reported threatened in protest against the pending execution of Thomas J. Mooney.

Officers in the federation are doing all in their power to effect executive clemency for Mooney because they believe there is a reasonable doubt of his guilt.

They are opposed to the use of the strike weapon because they believe that such tactics tend more to injure than to help Mooney's chances for a new trial.

This statement of the attitude of the American Federation of Labor was made tonight to the Universal Service by Frank Morrison, secretary of the body, who has just returned from the labor conference on the Mexican border.

"Those who are declaring for strikes in sympathy with Mooney," Mr. Morrison declared, "are infected with I. W. W.ism or are supporters or Berger, of Milwaukee.

"The Densmore report disclosing a conviction fund of $140,000 and the fact that perjured testimony was admitted would indicate that Mooney ought to have another trial. I understand that the judge in the case is in favor a new trial.

"We have been opposed all along to any strike against the action of the court, believing such a course would injure rather than help Mooney's chances, but we are doing what we can to influence the extension of executive clemency in some form, whether it be the granting of a new trial pardon or setting aside of the death penalty."

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our father and grandfather, Francis M. Carrico, who departed this life one year ago today, November 26, 1917.

We miss him and mourn in silence unseen,
And dwell in the memories of days that have been;
For no one knows how our hearts ache today,
Since our father and grandfather passed away.

Though in gloom we wander now
This blessed hope is given,
That though we are severed here below,
We will meet some day in heaven.

The pain of death is past,
Labor and sorrow cease,
Life's long warfare closed at last,
His soul has found its peace.

By his devoted daughter and son-in-law, Violet and John Moriarty, and grandsons, Louis and Maurice.

In memory of Mrs. Lena Sisson Johnson who died August 26, 1918, daughter of Mrs. Mary and the late George Sisson.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home
That never can be filled.

We look for thee no more on earth,
This world of grief and pain;
But on that bright and happy shore
We hope to meet again.

Through all her pain she sometimes smiled,
A smile of heavenly birth;
And when the angels called her home
She smiled farewell to earth.

Farewell to all my loved ones dear,
I am not dead, but sleeping here;
I was not yours, but Christ's alone;
He loved me best and took me home.

By her sad mother and sisters.

TERROR IN GERMANY

Radicals Inscribe Upon Their Banner "End Justifies All Means"—Fate of Germany in Hands of Workmen's And Soldiers' Council.

Amsterdam, Nov. 26.—Liebknecht, the radical, has emerged victor over Ebert, the moderate, in a three-days' struggle at Berlin.

As in the previous revolutionary combats, the struggle between the two rebel wings has been comparatively bloodless, but the future is fraught with crimson dangers, for the radicals, now in complete power, have written upon their banner, "The End Justifies All Means."

The affairs of all Germany rest for the moment in the hands of the Berlin workmen's and soldiers' council which has wrested all power from the Ebert government. The Chancellor and his ministers are reduced to figureheads.

Simultaneously with the spectre of the red terror another menace has arisen on the horizon of the strife-swept former empire. A definite split between North and South Germany and consequent civil war.

The South German States, Bavaria, Prussia's arch foe, in the lead, have served an ultimatum on the Berlin government that if it is found impossible at a conference in the capital today to re-establish unity throughout the land, Bavaria, Wurtemmburg Hesse and Baden will secede from Northern Germany and form a republic uniting the States of South Germany with German-Austria.

Washington, Nov. 26.—While no comment was forthcoming from the State Department yesterday on the situation in Germany, officials are beginning to see in Liebknecht's rise to power an ominous parallel to the Russian revolution.

MRS. GARDNER HONORED

Members of Her Husband's Company Present Her With a Gold Watch At Banquet of Candidates.

Mrs. L. E. Gardner, wife of Lieut. L. E. Gardner, of this city, who is the commanding officer of the Second Company, Central Machine Gun Officers' Training School, at Camp Hancock, Ga., was the recipient of a beautiful gold watch, the gift of members of her husband's company who will depart for their homes within a few days, after receiving orders for demobilization. The watch was presented at a farewell banquet given in honor of the departing candidates. Among the speakers at the banquet was Maj. J. G.A. Montague of Richmond, a cousin of former Governor Montague, and commanding officer of the First Battalion, of which this company is a part. Lieut. Gardner is a popular young officer at the school and is held in high esteem by the departing members of his company, who represent most of the States in the Union. Several members are from Panama and Cuba.

TO CARRY PEACE PARTY

According to the plan now, President Wilson will sail for France on the former German liner George Washington, about December 3.

He will be accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, her private secretary, Miss Edith Benham, and his confidential stenographer, Gilbert Close.

The ship also will carry French Ambassador and Madame Jusserand and and members of the American peace delegation. These are expected to include Secretaries Lansing and Baker and ex-Ambassador Henry White.

FUND EXCEEDS TWO MILLION; $170,500,000 WAS ASKED FOR America has made to the United War Work Campaign the largest cash donation in the history of the world, New York advices to the Washington headquarters today announced.

The campaign has already raised $203,179,088, and more subscriptions are coming in. This is nearly $35,000,000 more than was asked.

Acording to the committee, every State in the Union, with the exception of Pennsylvania and Minnesota, exceeded the quota assigned it, and confidence was expressed that these States wil be "over the top" when returns from Philadelphia and Minneapolis are in.

TRICOLOR IN STRASSBURG

Women Weep as King Albert, Foch and Petain Enter City.

Strassburg, Alsace, Nov. 26.—The French Tri-Color tonight flutters from the citadel of this ancient fortress city, dating from the time of the Romans. At the head of the French Fourth Army, amid a furore of enthusiasm on the part of the populace, Marshal Foch, King Albert, of the Belgians, and Generals Gouraud and Petain entered the historic town of the Rhine yesterday through the famous Schirmock gate.

French advance guards yesterday had posted a proclamation by General Gouraud in the city, beginning with the words of the Marceellaise, "The Day of Glory Has Arrived."

"Such a spectacle repays all our sufferings," said the famous colonial veteran after entering the city and beholding the multitude of wildly cheering men, women and children.

It was a spectacle that went far toward softening the general's grief over the death of his mother, of which he had been just previously apprised. He proudly led his polius through the new German built part of the city into the old French part, overlooked by the spire of the superb cathedral. In front of the ancient edifice he joined Marshal Foch, King Albert and Gen. Petain, all riding magnificent thoroughbred chargers.

Women weeping with joy held up children to kiss the drapeau placed on the statue of Marshal Kleber. Practically all of the city's 300,000 inhabitants had turned out to welcome the liberators.

The great square hitherto called Imperial Place has been named Place de la Republique, and the statue of Wilhelm II had been removed before the French entered the city.

"That the Russians should enter Constantinople in the course of the war is as improbable as it is certain that the French Tri-Color will not wave again from the Strassburg Citdel."—Albert Ballin in 1915.

On the day the armistice was signed Ballin died, a suicide, some dispatches said.

CALLS DUTCH PRO-ALLY

New Minister Declares Common People Always Opposed Germany

New York, Nov. 26.—Jacob Theodore Cremer, newly appointed Minister from the Netherlands to the United States, in a talk with newspaper men here yesterday just before his departure for Washington, where he goes to present his credentials, said the common people of Holland had always been strongly pro-Ally. He added that Holland would never become a republic within the life of the present generation, because of the love of the Dutch people for Queen Wilhelmina and the historic house of Orange.

Mr. Creamer made light of reports of threatened revolution.

THE INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC

Dispatches from Porto Rico show that the Spanish flu is causing great havoc in that island. Thousands have died from the plague, while many others have been prostrated. Doctors are scarce, and the few obtainable are overworked, and druggists are unable to meet the wants of the sufferers.

This terrible visitation at last accounts was moving towards the south pole. It had spread to Buenos Aires after having passed through Mexico in its progress to South America.

The flu caused the deaths of many thousands while it was prevailing in the north temperate zone. As has heretofore been stated in the Gazette, it made many vacant chairs in Alexandria, where old and young were swept away. Numbers of motherless and fatherless homes are in evidence in our city today.

The epidemic in the United Statee States caused more deaths than occurred among the American expeditionary forces from all causes from the time the first unit landed in France until hostilities ceased.

This announcement is based on unofficial estimates of the total casualties among the overseas forces and report from forty-six cities having a combined population of 23,000,000, which showed 82,306 deaths from influenza and pneumonia from September 9 to November 9.

Normally, these cities would have had 4,000 deaths from these causes durin gthis period, it was said, leaving approximately 78,000 as the number properly chargeable to the epidemic.

The total of deaths due to the influenza epidemic in this country is not known, as only the forty-six cities for which figures were given report vital statistics to the Census Bureau. The greatest mortality due to the epidemic in proportion to population was 7.4 per 1,000 in Philadelphia and the next greatest, 6.7 per 1,000 was reported from Baltimore.

THE EX-KAISER'S LARDER

The announcement yesterday of the huge stock of provisions in possession of former Emperor William showed that the ex-monarch believes in taking care of number one. While his people were economizing and denying themselves many of the necessaries of life their imperial ruler was storing up necessary provisions, as well as most of the luxuries of life.

A contemporary in commenting upon this latest expose says:

"The Kaiser ,though in partnership with the Lord, did not trust the Lord to be his commissary. While admonishing his people to stay their stomachs by faith in Heaven, he filled his commodious pantry with a very large and varied stock of provisions. He proved himself extremely efficient in heaping up eatables against a lean time.

"How many persons outside of his immediate family weep for this former Emperor in his day of calamity? How many out of all the millions over whom he has resigned for nearly half a century care a straw for him personally, or would lift a finger to help him in his dire extremity? Perhaps the who have not a friend or sympathizer outside their own family circle. He is one who has had the greatest of opportunities to make friends and who has made nothing but enemies. Contrast this man with King Albert of Belgium. The latter will always be dear to Belgians, will hold a special place of love in Belgian hearts, while the Emperor of Germany is not only crownless but friendless.

"Could any punishment be bitter than universal execration? Intern, imprison him? He is already a million miles away from the heart of humanity, surrounded by an Arctic zone of coldness and solitude from which he can never escape. A man without a friend is far more wretched than a man without a country. The Kaiser ends by having neither."

THE RETURN TO THE NORMAL

A little song goes up the sky,
A better time for you and I.
The laughter of the world comes back,
And swords are hung upon the rack.
The winds are sweet with many things,
And over all in triumph sings
The beauty of a world made over
With promise of the coming clover.

We can hardly realize that the great world war is over. Streamer headlines have ceased to appear in most newspapers, and our planet is about to settle down to the normal.

There are, however, still many subjects to engross our attention, and under conditions following a war rash words are uttered and divers individuals in every community do much talking but accomplish little. Many such are in Alexandria. The following was recenty published in the Southern Churchman, in bygone years printed in Alexandria, but since 1879 issued in Richmond.

Our contemporary suggests that we quit:

Gossiping.
Fidgeting.
Grumbling.
Hairsplitting.
Saying that fate is against you.
Finding fault wih the weather.
Anticipating evils in the future.
Pretending, and be your real self.
Going around with a gloomy face.
Faultfinding, nagging, and worrying.
Taking offense where none is intended.
Dwelling on fancied slights and wrongs.
Talking big things and doing small ones.

Thinking that life is a grind, and not worth living.
Talking continually about yourself and your affairs.
Depreciating yourself and making light of your abilities.
Saying unkind things about acquaintances and friends.
Exaggerating, and making mountains out of molehills.
Lamenting the past, holding on to disagreeable experiences.
Pitying yourself and bemoaning your lack of opportunities.
Comparing yourself with others to your own disadvantage.
Work once in a while and take time to renew your energies.
Waiting round for chances to turn up. Go and turn them.
Writing letters when the blood is hot, which you may regret later.
Thinking that all the good chances and opportunites are gone by.
Thinking of yourself to the exclusion of everything and everyone else.
Carping and criticising. See the best rather than the worst in others.
Dreaming that you would be happier in some other place or circumstances.
Belittling those whom you envy because you fee' that they are superior to yourself.
Dilating on your pains and aches and misfortunes to everyone who will listen to you.
Speculating as to what you would do in some one else's place, and do your best in your own.
Gazing idly into the future and dreaming about it instead of making the most of the present.
Longing for the good things that others have instead of going to work and earning them for yourself.
Looking for opportunities hundreds or thousands of miles away instead of right where you are.

BALLIN A SUICIDE

Great Shipping Magnate Killed Self After Quarrel With Kaiser

London, Nov. 25.—The secret of the suicide of Albert Ballin, Germany's greatest shipping magnate, is revealed by the Amsterdam corespondent of the London Daily Express, as a consequence of a heated discussion with the Kaiser at German headquarters in October.

Herr Ballin had been summoned to headquarters by General Ludendorff, then practically dictator in all military affairs, who lectured him at length for opposing the orders of the military party after the war. Ballin informed Ludendorff that reconstruction was not a business for a general who was plunging Germany into the abyss of defeat, and intimated that he would bring the matter before the Kaiser.

The Kaiser received Herr Ballin on the same day, and strongly supported Ludendorff's views. He hinted that Ballin either must accept these views or retire from public life. Ballin made a lengthy reply in which he foretold much that since has happened and urged the Kaiser not to allow himself to be blind to the real situation and, above all, not to make an understanding with England impossible.

"Unless we are on decent terms with England," he declared, "Germany cannot live."

The Kaiser shrugged his shoulders and said he believed Germany would fight her way out despite England. Ballin then hinted at the possibilty of a revolution in Germany in view of the increasing discontent. On the same day Ballin made a minute record of the conversation and forwarded it to a Berlin journalist friend, Dr. Hahn, with a letter which has been published, in which he stated that President Wilson's answer to Germany's application for an armistice was much more favorable than she had a right to expect.

After his meeting with the Kaiser, Ballin was a broken man. He spoke of killing himself, and when the Soviet at Hamburg commandeered the Hamburg-American building for its headquarters, Ballin shot himself.

FREE IRELAND

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—Leading a nation-wide movement on the part of the Catholic priests of the United States that the "claims of Ireland to be a free and independent nation in the fellowship of nations shall be acknowledged by the United States," 800 priests of the San Francisco, Sacramento, Los Angeles and Monterey dioceses have signed a petition to President Wilson and have delivered it to Senator James D. Phelan for presentation to the President before he leaves for the peace conference.

Within the next few days similar petitions from the other 12 archdioceses of the United States, which are now being prepared, will bear the signatures of over 20,000 Catholic priests. The petitioners set forth that they represent the sentiment of 20,000,000 Catholics of the United States as well as millions of other Americans who are interested in the settlement of the Irish problem.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Bosnia and Herzegovina, which were annexed by Austria some years ago now want to rejoin Serbia.

British mine sweepers have cleared the passage to Kiel for the warship squadron. Wilhelmshaven will next be inspected by them.

President Wilson will receive a royal welcome when he arrives in royal welcome when he arrives in London. Elaborate plans are being made to make his visit a memorabe one.

Commemorating the coming of peace and the centennial of its missionary activity, the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South will hold "a world's fair of Methodism" at Columbus, Ohio, from June 20 to July 17, 1919.

The counter revolutionary movement in Austria is progressing to such an extent that the national council has placarded the streets warning the public against it. It is said the monarchists are resorting to all kinds of methods to excite distrust of the council and trying to frighten the people by the prospect of allied occupation.

It is estimated that there are 60,000 cases of influenza in Porto Rico. Many towns are without doctors or nurses, and in many instances drug stores are closed, owing to illness of pharmacists. The suffering in the rural communities is reported to be intense. There have been many deaths as a result of the epidemic.

A campaign for the election of Gen. John J. Pershing, commander-in chief of the American Expeditionary Forces in France, to the Presidency in 1920, was formally launched in Ohio yesterday by the incorporation of "The Pershing Republican League." Former United States Senator Charles Dick, of Akron and fourteen other prominent Republicans of Akron, and Summit Counties are sponsors for the movement.

First units of the American expeditionary forces to return from overseas are expected to arrive in New York about the end of the present week. General March, chief of staff, announced last night that 382 officers and 6,614 men, 6,996 in all, of the air service, and other detachments training in England now are homeward bound on the Minnehaha, Lapland and Orca, British liners. The first two ships left Liverpool last Friday, and the Orca sailed on Saturday.

"The German people have had enough of war. They will never permit their government to get them in to another war," said Dr. Frederico Albert, former attache to the Chilean Legation in Berlin, who arrived yesterday at New York on the steamship Hollandia from Holland. "Foodstuffs were very scarce," he said. "The bread allowance was down to four pounds a week for each person, and was black, stale and unpalatable. Meat was almost impossible to obtain, and people were allowed only three quarters of an ounce of butter a week."

Describing a cruise around the surrendered German ships before their departure from the Firth of Forth for their place of internment in the Scapa Flow, a correspondent says the ships were in such condition that they looked like vessels laid by for breaking up purposes. They apparently had not been painted for more than two years. Funnels and bridges were covered with rust and the masts were blackened with soot. On all of the ships except the Derflinger crews lounged about, paying no attention to their officers. The men looked miserable and drenched and cold. Their clothing was nondescript, and there was an air of melancholy and depression everywhere.

RECORD MAIL FROM YANKS

4,500,000 Letters Arrive on Liner Rochambeau

New York, Nov. 26.—The greatest shipment of mail received from American soldiers in France—no less than 4,500,000 letters—came in Sunday on the French liner Rochambeau. These letters "to the folks back home" were going today to all parts of the United tSates on every mail train.

A special force of postal men was put to work sorting it, and in this city every available carrier was on duty to insure quick delivery.

WHOLESALE MURDER

Paris, Nov. 26.—Socialist workmen who refuse to submit to the authority of the Bolshevist functionaries in Russia are being put to death by the Red Guards in the same whole sale fashion as members of the aristocracy, military officers and bourgeoisie. Three hundred workmen were put to death recently at Yaroslav for rebellion against the drastic acts of the terrorist regime. As a result of this and other acts the revolutionary Socialists and Social Democrats have sent a delegation to France to appeal to the international Socialists to release them from the present oppressive rule.
